

The San Francisco State University Foundation, Inc.'s official name has changed. The organization's Board of Directors approved the name change to "The University Corporation, San Francisco State" at its June 2007 meeting.

The use of the new name will be phased in through August. Donors and funders should be instructed to use "The University Corporation, San Francisco State" name when issuing payments after September 1, 2007.

This is only a name change for the organization and does not affect its standing as a non-profit or the activities it conducts.

Questions regarding the change should be directed to Tammie Ridgell at extensions 81706 or Anthony Victoria at extension 82238.
